

The California Foundation Fund is proud to announce the California Financial Literacy University Online

This is great news for all high school, college and financial literacy teachers. Our online financial literacy school is totally free.

Teachers may now create online classes, enroll students, review progress, assess capacities and grade tests with this easy to use online program. Courses come with printed teacher and student workbooks to compliment classroom education. Students can enroll themselves and use real life financial realities in their online course work. Doing this allows students to continuously use this tool to help them plan their personal financial lives.

Here is the link to our new online financial literacy university:

<http://cafoundationfund.us1.list-manage1.com/track/click?u=adb3f58962c377f3bb283fc5b&id=23176bc45d&e=88e2214be1>

You can view this and the rest of our programs at:

<http://cafoundationfund.us1.list-manage2.com/track/click?u=adb3f58962c377f3bb283fc5b&id=f5addb56a9&e=88e2214be1>

For California schools, teaching financial literacy is not widely implemented. This online tool allows teachers to offload their prep-time allowing for the simple implementation of financial literacy. It also compliments our instructor training and certification programs that uses this and many other tools to create competent financial literacy instructors. We realize that financial literacy teaches students to make fiscally responsible choices.

The benefits of financial literacy include:

- improvements in gainful employment
- job satisfaction
- mental health
- overall responsible citizens

For Information Contact:

Miguel Vasquez
CEO | Executive Director
California Foundation Fund
374 East H Street, PMB A133
Chula Vista, California 91910
P: 1888-330-8638
miguel.vasquez@cafoundationfund.org